Pre-fabricated Arches and Chimneys

Brick arches are part of our architectural heritage. Today, there are all too few bricklayers able to construct brick arches to a satisfactory standard using traditional methods. As a consequence of this, many historic buildings fall into disrepair or lose their aesthetic glory.

At All Brick & Stone, we offer a service to reproduce brick arches using contemporary techniques to recreate the beautiful brick forms of the past. These can be either prefabricated concrete-backed structural or lightweight brick slip arches. We can also supply loose designs to suit each individual requirement.

Bespoke lightweight pre-fabricated chimney stacks in either real brick slip, render or GRP finish offer a huge range of options and solutions for any difficult installation or those looking to save time and money on-site. This innovative product can be made to any size, for any roof position and finished to almost any style. They are also designed to work with log burners and fires. We offer a full design service using CAD technology to communicate design solutions to suit your requirements.

Flint Blocks & Natural Stone Walling

Flint is a traditional building material that provides an authentic decorative appeal to buildings.

At All Brick & Stone we provide both loose flint and flint blocks for construction and design projects.

Flint is a naturally occurring material and therefore truly environmentally friendly. Over hundreds of years flint has become an integral part of English heritage throughout the UK and it is the perfect way to add a unique aesthetic to a structure whilst retaining a classic and traditional finish.

Loose Flint

We supply many different loose flints including:

- Knapped Field flint – usually compiles of warming tones of yellows, deep browns, yet can also include natural contrasts of grey and white.
- Knapped Chalk flint – usually blue-grey and white in colour, tones may vary from pale to deep dark and almost black.
- 50/50 mix – for those who desire a unique, multi-tonal effect we recommend the 50/50 mix that combines both knapped field and chalk flint

Flint Blocks

As laying traditional loose flint is a highly skilled trade, time consuming and therefore expensive, we also offer flint blocks as an alternative which can be more cost effective. These blocks are specially designed to make installation easier without losing out on the unique aesthetic that loose flint brings to any project. Manufactured at source to the highest standard, this product is extremely popular and provides the traditional hand-laid individual results of loose flint.

Clay & Natural Stone Paving

We offer an extensive range of natural stone products that have been carefully designed and selected to ensure the very highest quality. These include flagstones, block paving and accessories for any garden, patio or driveway landscape for both residential and commercial projects. Every individual natural stone slab is unique, distinguished by innumerable tonal variations and enhanced by the differing riven profiles of each stone. Pure stone paving comes in a wide range of colours, surface finishes and sizes to suit most budgets and design requirements

Clay is a material that has a strong association with brick, however it is far from a single-use material, and many of the same properties that have made it such a wonderful masonry material mean that it also represents a superb paving choice – particularly when compared like-for-like with alternative products. Our range of clay paving is renowned for its durability and distinctive colour selection that won't fade over time. We offer products suitable for pedestrian or light vehicular traffic and can create designs which will harmonise or accentuate the landscape within almost any project.

Clay Roof Tiles & Natural Slate Products

Clay Roof Tiles

We offer a wide range of colours and styles of clay roof tile to suit all types of roof design, both for new build and restoration projects. From handmade tiles where there is no better roofing aesthetic, to machine made where adaptability is a key feature – we offer a wide choice to suit almost any pitched roof design.

Natural Slate Roof Tiles

Please enquire about our range of natural slate roof tiles, slate cladding, slate paving, walling, sills and copings. The inherent beauty and qualities of slate have resulted in its specification and use by architects, developers and designers on a huge range of projects from residential developments to large commercial applications.
