

Supporting information

These are a few ideas of things that could help make you a Greensand Champion.

Remember, this list is not exhaustive, there will be lots more!

Actively support organisations such as the RSPB, BNHS, WT or GST

Monitor and record local wildlife and report

Reduce household waste and consistently champion waste sorting and recycling at home, in school and in local areas.

Register for and contribute to records for Natures Calendar

Volunteer to practically conserve or enhance the Greensand area e.g. scrub bashing or coppicing

Research and make a link to a local recycling plant

Encourage composting at home, in the classroom and on school grounds.

Make a permanent switch away from single use plastic items

Upcycle something useful from plastic – for example a bird feeder

Organise a safe litter pick/s

Record litter sightings on walk and inform land owner/council

Walk or cycle to school wherever possible

Any action to save water and or electricity or switch to renewable sources

Fundraise for, or install energy saving devices – water butts, solar panels

Recycle old text books/school clothes/unclaimed lost property

Grow wildlife friendly plants in school/at home/in the garden

Watch documentaries and shares messages of what you learn

Sign up to the Greensand Country Charter

- By submitting an application, you consent to your information being shared by the Greensand Trust, Greensand Country Landscape Partnership and partner organisations. If you are successful in becoming a Greensand Champion, details of your award will be shared publically, as part of our Hall of Fame, and on our websites and you are consenting to this unless you tell us otherwise.
- By attaching photographs to your entry, you confirm that you have obtained permission from the photographer and those pictured within images, for the Greensand Trust, Greensand Country Landscape Partnership and partner organisations to use the images (and any subsequently requested) for all purposes of publication, exhibition, press, television, and website coverage of the award and for us to make copies, retouches, reductions, and enlargements of them without payment or permission.
- In any photographs submitted with your entry, you confirm that permission was granted to take it (and that a parent or guardian consented if the subject is under 18 years of age)
- As far as you are aware, in using any image, Greensand Trust, Greensand Country Landscape Partnership and partner organisations will not breach any copyright of the image, and we reserve the right not to credit the photographer.
- All Greensand Champions applications will receive a congratulatory certificate via email, and your entry will be listed on an online 'Hall of Fame'.
- An overall winner will be considered and reviewed by an independent panel of judges.